The Ehlers-Danlos Society

“Unity is strength... when there is teamwork and collaboration, wonderful things can be achieved”

Mattie Stepanek

The Ehlers-Danlos Society is the new world body for the genetic connective tissue condition, Ehlers-Danlos Syndrome.

Launching in May 2016 from the foundations of the American charity; The Ehlers-Danlos National Foundation (EDNF), this non-profit organisation will focus on pioneering research, raising critical awareness and bringing together the patient and medical community.
